UNIFORMED ALUMNI GIVE STC STAKE IN KOREAN CONFLICT

SPRING ALUMNI DAY

In the spring as in the fall our thoughts as alumni go back to our college and again we think of gathering together amid familiar surroundings and friendly faces at S. T. C. We read the program and think, "I wonder if Miss Ruth will be there," and "I'd love to see ——— again."

We think all your hopes will be fulfilled since we are planning an interesting program for Saturday, June 2, and we expect a large number of alumni to return. Leave your present cares and join us in renewing old acquaintances and seeig new happenings at S.T.C.!

Accordig to tradition we shall

Alumni Induction Ceremony

According to the new State Teachers College Alumni Constitution, adopted in October, 1950, an active Alumnus qualified to hold any office in the organization is one who has received a degree or diploma from State Teachers College.

Therefore it is suggested that the two year transfer students, who receive the degree of A.A. (Associate in Arts) shall have the privilege of participating i the Alumni Induction Ceremony held each year just prior to Commencement.

This year the A.A. graduates will be invited to witness the ceremony, and if the Alumni Association is agreeable to the above suggestion, a slight change will be made in the original ceremony, and in the future the holders of either A.A. or B.S. degrees will be formally inducted into the Alumni Association.

Dr. Ida Belle Wilson Thomas
Chairman, Committee for Revision of Alumni Ceremony

A MESSAGE FROM DR. BLACKWELL TO MEMBERS OF THE ALUMNI

No time is more appropriate for a visit to your Alma Mater than is the weekend of June 1-4, 1951, which will begin on Friday evening, June 1, with the Senior Ball for fifty-seven members of the senior class, and 17 members of the sophomore graduating class who are candidates for the Associate in Arts degree and their respective escorts.

A well-planned Alumn Day program and dinner will be a special feature on Saturday, June 2.

The baccaluareate service at three o'clock on Sunday, June 3, promises to be outstanding. The program will consist of special music by the college groups under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Laib Fleming.

We are indeed fortunate to have secured the Reverend Joseph B. Dickerson, pastor of the McCabe Memorial Methodist Church in Wilmington, Delaware, for the baccalaureate sermon. Mr. Dickerson is well known on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, having been Superintendent of the Salisbury District of the Wilmington Conference of the Methodist Church for a number of years. He was also an active Rotarian and Parent-Teacher Association worker while residing in Salisbury.

With a total of seventy-five applicants for degrees, the commencement program will begin at 10:30 a.m., Monday, June 4. Special music will be provided by the college groups again under the direction of Mrs. Fleming. There will be an invocation by the Reverend Niles E. Compton of Granite Falls, North Carolina, who will receive his Bachelor's degree, and an address by the Honorable J. Millard Tawes, State Comptroller of the Treasury, a resident of Crisfield.

Members of the graduating classes, who will be presented by Dr. T. J. Caruthers, Director of Teacher Education, will be awarded degrees by Dr. J. D. Blackwell, President of the College since 1935. Mr. Jerome Frampton, the newly appointed member of the State Board of Education, after awarding B.S. and A.A. degrees, respectively, will welcome each of the B.S. degree graduates into the teaching profession. Following the singing of the Alma Mater by students and faculty, parents of both the B.S. and A.A. degree graduates will be guests of the faculty at a luncheon in the college dining hall.

The long and still growing list of former STC'eans now serving at home and abroad in the Army and the Navy, the Marine Corps and the Coast Guard is headed by Captain Melvin J. Bradley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Monroe Bradley of Mardela and a student at STC from 1938-40.

The 29-yearlold Air Force veteran, now a jet pilot, has already completed more than 100 missions over war torn Korea. The Captain first enlisted in 1942 and served in the Pacific theater during World War II.

Another veteran of Korean action is Pfc. Henry Fluer. A member of the class of '47, Fluer formerly taught at Wilmington Junior High School. He is the son of Mrs. Hattie Messick of Salisbury.

Before his recall to active duty, Pfc. Fluer married the former Miss Betty Butler of Pocomoke.

And still another STC'ean on the scene in Korea is Cpl. Hyman Crandall of Crisfield, now a staff reporter with the Pacific edition of the Stars and Stripes.

A recent newsreel showed the 23-year-old Corporal in a street scene in Seoul gulping a candy bar amid a mob of milling Korean children.

Crandall will be remembered as a student at STC in 1944 and again in 1948-49.

Lynn Ward of Pocomoke, an Air Force Lieutenant who has enjoyed his share of cigarettes and cokes in the "corridor" at STC is now pulling duty in Hawaii.

A student at the college from 1947-49, Ward recently earned his commission and has since completed a course of instruction at the Air Force Navigation Training School at Ellington, Texas.

Giving STC representation in the Marine Corps are Bryan "Spuck" Bennett and Bowyer E. Forsythe, and a brand new bluejacket is Allen Robinson who left his class this year to enlist in the Navy.

And the draft has presented the Army with five young privates who were students at the college when the first semester opened last September.

Heading the detail is Tom Stevens of Trappe whose name appears on the list of '51 graduates. Another senior in the group is Everett Fuller of Willards. Ed Stephens of Salisbury, Vaughn Knotts of Easton, and Bill Shields of New York complete the list.

And STC can boast a little gold braid. Doug Bloodsworth, an STC-ean both before and after World War II is a Lieutenant (j.g.) now seeing service with the Navy's air

STC Plans New Library Building

A Library Building Committee appointed in November, 1950, has been working on plans for a new library building at State Teachers College. The present quarters have been out-grown by the rapidly growing book collection and facilities needed for students and faculty.

Plans will be submitted to the Board of Education and then to the Legislature at its next meeting for approval and necessary funds. Let us all work toward getting for our college a library building of which we will all be proud.

PRINCE STREET PRINCIPAL WINS HONOR SOCIETY SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. Hazel Jenkins Hearne, supervising principal of Prince Street Elementary School, has been awarded the Esther J. Crooks Scholarship Award of $100, presented annually by the State organization of Delta Gamma Kappa, national honor society for women teachers.

The State group's annual meeting was held recently in the George Washington Hotel at Ocean City. About 300 attended.

Dr. John H. Furbay, of Kansas City, Mo., director of Air World Education, and prominent advocate of international understanding, was the guest speaker.

Miss Martha Jones, Salisbury, and Miss Elizabeth Hodge, of Crisfield, were among the eleven new members taken into the organization.

The gift was presented by Dr. Anne H. Matthews, of Salisbury, State chairman of the scholarship committee. Standards for bestowing the award include: scholarship, service, worthiness of purpose, contribution of study to education and financial need for advanced study. Mrs. Hearne will use the scholarship to continue her work for a Master of Arts degree at Columbia University.

The fund establishing the Esther J. Crooks Scholarship was set up just five years ago, also at the George Washington Hotel, Ocean City, when the State convention met for the first time at Ocean City.

Plans to offer a world scholarship gift of $150 were initiated at this year's meeting. This would be an encouragement and aid to members of the society wishing to study in a foreign country. It will be awarded for the first time this summer.

All officers were re-elected. Mrs. Alice Mae Beauchamp, of Princess Anne, is first vice-president, and Mrs. Mildred R. Schmidt of Baltimore, is president.

Other officers are: Miss Mary Anna Powell, Bel Air, second vice-president; Mrs. Rebekah Stonebraker, executive secretary; Miss Ruth Dudderar, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mildred K. Balling, Rising Sun, recording secretary; Mrs. Koma Stinchcomb, Linthicum Heights, treasurer, and Miss Katherine Greaney, Washington, D. C., parliamentarian.

Mrs. Joseph Edward Snyder of Kingston Hall, Somerset County, addressed the group on the life of Anna Ella Carroll of Kingston Hall, the unofficial member of President Lincoln's cabinet.

Among the guest soloists was Freddie Roberts, accompanied by David Kidder at the piano.

IMPROVEMENTS AT COLLEGE ARE NOW ASSURED —

Dr. J. D. Blackwell, President of the State Teachers College at Salisbury, has received official notice from Mr. George E. Gannon, Chief Accountant, Treasury Department, Annapolis, of the $505,762.00 General Construction Loan for 1951 made available to the Salisbury College by the recent Maryland Legislature. The fund is distributed as follows:

Demonstration School building, including equipment and utilities, $454,000; furniture and equipment for the men's dormitory nearing completion, $29,260; extension of water and sewer to serve men's new dormitory, $15,000; road and parking area for men's new dormitory, $7500.

Mr. E. Wilson Booth of Salisbury has been designated as architect for the new Demonstration School building. Plans for the building have been prepared by Dean Howard E. Bosley, Mrs. Bernice Brady, Dr. T. J. Caruthers, Mr. James R. Focht, Miss Mary Hutton, Dr. Anne H. Matthews, Miss Pauline Riall, Mrs. Wilsie Seabrease, and other members of the faculty.

With the sale of approximately 3.6 acres of land lying on the East side of the Salisbury Boulevard on April 20, further developments at the Salisbury College are anticipated.

Class Of '26

Dear Classmates of 1926:

Our Homecoming on June 2nd will be the climaxing celebration of our Alma Mater's Silver Jubilee. Although the classes who have been out of school for one year, five years, 10 years, 15 years, and 20 years will be honored, I believe that we, the Class of '26, who have the unique honor of being the first graduating class, naturally feel the closest kinship with our Alma Mater in rounding out its first quarter century of life. We represent the first fruition of the aims and purpose-for-being of our then new school and with her can look back with pride over 25 years of service to our community, state, and country.

At our reunion this year, we will have the privilege and pleasure of honoring four of our first teachers, and there will be time and opportunity to gossip and reminisce together. Although the "Loving Cup" ritual which we established at our first Homecoming has long been discarded, the spirit on which it was founded still exists. Remember, you don't need to hold the cup in your hands in order to have the opportunity to tell the important events in your life since we last got together.

Let's make our 25th Homecoming one long to remember! I'll see you there!

Library Lore

A large part of the wisdom gathered by the Student Body must be garnered from books. These books the College Library has gathered in one wing of the Alma Mater. This is a very live and vital part of the Campus, an important artery in the college body.

From the time the library book collection was small and the textbooks for all students were furnished from it, to the present, a tremendous growth has been marked. The designated quarters for library purposes of twenty-five years ago are no longer adequate to care for the present collection of 23,000 volumes. An overflow is located in the hallway leading to the girl's dormitory where the Curriculum Laboratory collection of 2,000 courses of study, textbooks, etc. are now housed. A room in the Girl's Dormitory has been used this year for storage of back numbers of periodicals.

The Audio-Visual aids have been placed in the hallway adjacent to the Library.

So the overflowing process is going on and thus can be seen the necessity for:

A NEW LIBRARY BUILDING AT S.T.C.

Edson Ryle

Edson Riddell Ryle, 28, a student at STC from 1938-40 died as a result of head and neck injuries received when the car in which he was a passenger overturned on the road between Elkton and Chesapeake City, April 27th.

A veteran of World War II, Ryle was a senior at Washington College at the time of his death. He was editor of the college paper, The Elm, and had been prominent in school theatrical circles.

A brother, Herbert, STC B.S. '50; and a sister, Esther, STC 1945-47, are among the survivors.

The Ryle home is at Deal Island.

CRIPPLED CHILD LEARNS BY PHONE TEACHES OTHERS HUMAN LESSONS

Dear Dr. Matthews:

. . . I have what I think is a very fascinating method of teaching one child. It is a telephone hookup between our classroom and her home; we talk and hear her over the little gadget — or "the thing", as we call it — and she may do the same. It's a rather long story and perhaps you'd like to know part of the background.

The girl is about 13 or 14 and was born a cripple. To make matters worse, she has a twin sister who is perfect — thus, making her well aware of the normal life she should be leading.

For the past three and one-half years she has been in a children's hospital with her entire body in a cast. She had never been to school a day in her life. Beside that, she lived in a shell, having no interest in anything. Therefore, because of her hospitalization she was assigned to the fifth grade, and to my class. Our hookup was completed before Christmas.

At first, she wouldn't talk. Can you imagine having no friends at all? Such was her story. Gradually we let the pupils stop to see her and some "adapted" her. Within a week she offered to sing "White Christmas" for us — via telephone — and a group of kids who had grown to love a person who was not as fortunate as they, stood by with tears in their eyes as they listened. Later we had her visit our school for a Christmas program and a party given for her by the children . . .

Last Thursday the class had a pleasant and happy surprise! Gloria came to school for the first day . . . Now we are making arrangements for her to come to school every two weeks. She has a home teacher, one supplied by our Township School District. She is taught by her for six hours each week and tunes in the class two or three hours a day.

She isn't up to fifth grade, but she is such a changed person. She is happy and now knows what it is to have friends. She has also helped the class so much! They realize what being considerate and helping others mean . . .

The telephone is paid for by our Kiwanis Club.

It has made this year of my teaching one I shall always remember.

U. Of M. Is Extending Its Summer Sessions

The University of Maryland will augment its regular Summer School Sessions this year by adding an additional session, Dr. H. C. Byrd, University President, announced yesterday.

The previously scheduled session, beginning on June 26 and terminating on August 3, will be extended to include classes up to ad including September 15.

Registration for the extended summer courses will take place on Saturday, June 23.

"This extended program embracing 16 academic hours of freshman subjects," said Dr. Byrd, "will enable high school graduates to enroll for a full semester of their academic program, including Air Force ROTC."

"Not only does this offer the high school graduate an opportunity to begin his college education within 30 days after graduation," Dr. Byrd continued, "but the Air Force ROTC course begins his preparation for possible future enrollment in the Advanced Air Force ROTC program, should he so desire."

"The present Air Force program," Dr. Byrd concluded, "provides for a large number of students to complete their University work with the one provision that they must agree to serve two years in the Air Force as commissioned officers if, after graduation, they are called upon to do so."

Class Of '45

Remember the good times we used to have together!

It's been a long time since we've been together. Plan to come to Homecoming June 2nd so we can catch up on news of each other.

Our class usually has a small representation at Homecoming. Let's set a new record this year!

Will I see you June 2nd?

KEATS HAS SAID: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever: its lovliness increases; it will never pass into nothingness . . . .", and how many former students, remembering the quiet beauty of the Social Room, have enjoyed his warm and human thought?

To The Members Of Our Class Of 1950

Hi, Everybody! Hope that you all have enjoyed teaching this year as much as I have. My only complaint is that there just isn't enough time in the day. All one has to do is turn around and its time to fix that register again it seems. If the years keep flying by at this rate, we will soon be celebrating our 25th class reunion!

Speaking of reunions — Here's hoping all of us will get together for our first one this June, Saturday 2, at the College. It will be wonderful to see you again.

Love,
Ginny Spencer

ALL FORMER STUDENTS URGED TO RETURN TO STC FOR HOMECOMING

Welcome back all you alumni! Your Alumni Association hopes you will enjoy your visit back to S. T. C.

Wour college experiences will pay a very pleasant dividend if you take advantage of the opportunity you have each commencement to revisit the school and see old friends again.

We especially welcome all you alumni who may not be graduates of S.T.C., but who took advantage of the opportunity she offers to serve you as a junior college. We hope that all who may have attended, no matter how briefly, will consider themselves full fledged alumni, and we are proud and happy to welcome you all.

S. T. C., located as it is in the geographic center of the Delmarva Peninsula, offers a wonderful facility not only to those who wish to train themselves for the teaching profession, but to all students seeking a college education.

Accredited as it is, students may freely transfer after a year or two at Salisbury to such other institutions as they may wish to attend in order to further pursue their particular educational aims.

We hope, therefore, that having taken advantage of the opportunity offered by S. T. C., to serve you as a junior college or teachers college; that you will also take advantage of the opportunity that it offers you to revisit it at commencement time.

To you teachers and graduates of S. T. C., we hope you will continue to return at commencement time. We know you hold this school dear and she is proud of you.

We are all interested in what all of our alumni are doing, and we hope you will all be here at commencement time, this commencement, and for many others to come.

All who walked her halls as students are equally welcome to her hospitality as alumni.

Dr. H. Richard Blackwell, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Blackwell, was feted by the Optical Society of America at its annual banquet, last October in Cleveland, Ohio.

Young Dr. Blackwell, a member of the department of psychology of the University of Michigan and director of the university's Vision Research Laboratory, was honored for his work in the field of visual acuity determination during World War II.

The Medal is presented biennially to a research worker under 30 who has made an outstanding contribution to the science of optics.

Dean B. Judd of the award committee described some of Dr. Blackwell's contributions to the field of visual acuity determination and his services to the vision studies conducted under his direction during the recent war.
